Food Meal App — Food App is a JavaScript capstone group project about building our own web application based on an external API. We selected the MEALDB API that provides meal category data for our Food App and built the web app around it. This app allows the user to see various kinds of meal categories with the functionalities of like and comment features.

- Built with: (HTML, CSS, Javascript, Webpack, and API)

House Renting App – a collaborative, full-stack application developed using Ruby on Rails for the backend API, and React with Redux for the frontend. It enables users to effortlessly rent houses, make reservations, and create accounts through secure login and signup processes. With authentication and authorization mechanisms in place, the app ensures data security. Designed to simplify the house renting experience, the app offers a dynamic and efficient platform for finding and reserving rental properties.

- Built with: (React, Redux, Ruby, Ruby on rails, Postgresql)
